DAY WE CELEBRATED

How Middletowners Spent the Fourth of July,

HEAT CAUSED MUCH DISCOMFORT

Some of the Noise of the Night Before the Fourth—the Ball Games—Great Crowds at Midway Park—Early Successive Picnics.

July 4th was scorching! A glistening scorcher. The sun shot out rays that penetrate the innermost part of man's skin. The air was humid and the temperature ranged from 92° in the morning to 100° in the shade at 5 o'clock.

The day brought the great proportion of Middle town's population remained by their own firesides, as the expression was, forsooth. Many men came, however, to the business center, to noo, to the amount of beer and mixed drinks consumed in the hotel and saloons. It was just that kind of July 4th, and a good many helped to make it so. The Orange County brewery had a wagon running all day long. Brewer, Remick told his drivers sort of half confidentially that he had sold $1,000 worth of beer on Monday and was selling more than that on the 4th.

The boys of all ages ushered in the Fourth about 11 o'clock Monday night. The police regulations required that hour, and not then until daylight, the hotel entries, some one who elles was variously sought by the waiters and guides. Many others went on the romping with a bang about 1 o'clock in the blinding revelry and firecrackers all night. It was the 4th that George Bradshaw, a young constable, was elected an active member of the active honorary list. Two Bradshaws were elected an active member of the following committee for fire protection: J. T. K. Pratt, Harry C. Benson, D. W. Schoemaker, S. Mills, F. O. Longfellow, Chas. Wolff Jr., and Russell Waggon.

WAKEMAN ENGINE COMPANY

The committee in charge of the company's picnic at Middletown Park Tuesday was made up of Leon Simpson, M. H. Brown, Wm. Vogel, J. T. F. Fager, Burton L. Mount and W. Davenport. On Monday night the company joined in a carnival, dressed headed by the Duke of York and showing a transparency of the time, calling attention to the point. Only routine business was transacted.

The patriotic small boy was not alone in his enthusiasm for his country. A good many marched out in full (big) regalia and little girls think they were having fun by discharging their fireworks. Some took possession of Main street about midnight. Monday night and Tuesday morning the streets gave them a welcome despite the heat.

Thus that July 4th, Engle's countrymen in the bows were discharging ball cartridges from pistols and real shot guns. There were numerous cases where scoundrels of all sorts ringed the streets giving slight injury to the face by powder, but the girls took it in stride.

The following were appointed on the reception committee for fire parade day: John Gavis, T. Macandell, L. J. Morris, Chapman, D. J. Evans and Josiah Hart.

The following were added to the committee on the night of the picnic: W. J. McCarter and F. J. Mosher.

THE TIP OF THE TONGUE

The personal interest which the employe of the Ontario and Western take in the road and their loyalty to it and its interests have much to do with the popularity of the road with the traveling public. A gentleman who came up the road, Saturday, when its facilities were taxed to the utmost to accommodate the unprecedented rush of travel, says that all the employes with whom he came in contact seemed to take in personal satisfaction in the fact that the road was doing so much business, and instead of being flustered and stampish or up-hill did their best to excuse or explain away any delays or inconveniences which most inevitably occur when every one starts for the country on the same day.

THE FOURTH ABROAD

American Flag Floats In Many European Capitals.

ANNEXATIONISTS PARADE IN HAVANA

United States' Naval Day a Popular Holiday in Foreign Countries and Appropriately Observed Everywhere.

LONDON, July 5.—The Americans abroad celebrated the Fourth with great enthusiasm. The American flag was displayed in nearly every capital of Europe. In Berlin many members of the American colony went on a special steamer for a picnic on the river Spree. There were dancing and fireworks in the evening.

The United States embassy in Berlin, Paris, Rome and other continental capitals gave receptions.

In London American flags were numerous, and many of the business houses closed and gave the employees a holiday.

Mr. Joseph H. Choate, the United States ambassador and Mrs. Choate celebrated the day with receptions both at the United States embassy and at their residence. Each of the buildings was tastefully decorated with flags, and others representing the national colors. The guests included Sir William Gellin, the queen's master of ceremonies; Mr. Sam. L. Clemens, Mark Twain and Mrs. Clemens, Senator and Mrs. Mark Hanna, Senator and Mrs. Henry Cabot Lodge and Mr. William M. Osborne, United States consul general, and Mrs. Osborne.

The reception at the Choates' residence was attended by 1,500 persons, including many English people and a number of the leaders of the International Council of Women. Some boys from the United States training ship Monongahela were at Plymouth, who were also present, attracted much attention. A band of music played on the terrace.

HAVANA CELEBRATES.

The Town keeps American Independence Day.

HAVANA July 5.—By noon yesterday every Cuban in Havana was aware that money could be made by selling all the firecrackers he might have on hand.

Consequently little work was done in the industries before sunset. The Trade and other streets of Havana were as noisy, hideous, as any quarter of New York or San Francisco. Cuban young sters caught the infection and were given money to buy firecrackers, while the others gaily invited a bunch of fireworks to a party and he drove through the crowded throng of Indians, negroes and Chinese, who would march and play musical instruments.

At noon a salute of 45 guns was fired at Callejas fortissimo. The Eighth United States infantry paraded, while the regiment band played national airs.

At Camp Quimadó, the headquarters of General Diaz, the regimental band discussed suitable music, and in the afternoon a programme of sports was carried through.

James Street Station * Care and cure are a drag on the nerve forces which control the body. They become starved, exhausted and unable to regulate and control the system. Nothing is so good to help build up the wasted nerve tissues and worn out brain cells, to repair the damage that has been inflicted on the delicate nerves as Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. It cures nervous prostration, debility of the body and mind, weakness, headache, nervousness and neuritis after everything else has failed.

I suffered from nervous prostration brought on from overwork. I was completely run down and could sleep only three or four nights in a week. Nothing I tried seemed to give me any relief until I began using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. The improvement began and in a few weeks my former health was restored."
